

Hannah age 14

April 20, 2020

On March 16, my life became a bore

I was told by the government I can not go out anymore

The pandemic spread, throughout the globe

It is everywhere,

On cardboard, plastic, and maybe in the air

Nobody knows much about this virus, yet we are so afraid

Wash wash wash they say

I listen, hoping this will go away

Some days I go out to walk, with my mask on of course

And I feel like I'm getting as big as a horse

I cannot wait for this to end,

I truly miss all of my friends
